

NOW IN PALM BEACH

FIT FOR ROYALTY The Royal Poinciana Plaza (theroyalpoincianaplaza.com) is quintessential Palm Beach. Created by iconic PB architect John Volk, it invites locals and visitors alike to a breezy destination for shopping, dining and relaxing: the three mainstays of a Palm Beach vacation. Adding to its charm is Collective (mariscollective.com), a concept created by Santa Monica based Maris Collective, who envisions a shopping experience unlike any other. The store will house various designers, and, according to CEO LeeAnn Souner, all items—from high-end fashion pieces to contemporary accessories and jewelry—were curated to cater to the Palm Beach lady. And the brands showcased are always evolving—so one stop to the Collective is never enough. —Jessica Teitel
