KNOW WELLINGTON

Go behind the scenes and inside the rings at the world's largest and longest competitive equestrian horse shows in Wellington with the new book Wellington: The World of Horses. Spanning twelve weeks during the winter season, the city plays host to award-winning riders from all over the world, who convene here to chart their horses over jumps, guide them in the distinguished ballet of dressage, or pit them against other champion polo teams. All of the author's proceeds from this book will be donated to the Brooke Innovation Fund, which invests in new ideas to improve the welfare of working animals and the lives of those communities that depend on them. $85, assouline.com
